Note for Database Design

Since marks-per-question differ across exams (1 mark for Police Bharti, 2 marks for Vanrakshak and SSC GD), the `Questions` table/sheet must include a Marks field per question (not assume 1 mark globally), and the Full-Length Mock Test generation logic must pull the correct question count per subject based on the selected batch/exam — not a fixed number across all batches.

Exam patterns are subject to change based on official notifications; question bank and logic should be built to be easily updated if marks/question distribution is revised.
